Subject: Cocaine Protocol for State Police

Hi Mike,

I reviewed the Mass State Police Protocol for testing Cocaine. At no point in this protocol does the state police refer to performing microcrystalline test to differentiate between d v. l cocaine.

Needless to say, the version of the Cocaine Protocol I have is dated March 2007. I do not know if they have a more recent version (Julie would be able to assist you in that matter.)

I would be more than happy to release a copy of this protocol to you per Julie's approval.

Thx,
Annie
